DEATH CALLS MRS. HINMAN

Resident of Cardston For Many Years Dies After Long Illness

(From Our Own Correspondent.) CARDSTON, Jan. 8.—The death occurred here last night of Mrs. Martha Cook Hinman, aged 58 years, wife of Andrew Hinman of Cardston. Deceased had been in ill health and suffering for a long time and death came as a relief to pain. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hinman have been residents of the Temple City for years and are well known in the south.

Macleod Bonspiel

2.—Greenway, Lethbridge, four bouboir clocks and four cream and sugar sets donated by T. H. Peacock, Calgary, and Henry Blrks & Co., Winnipeg.

3.—Wyatt, Claresholm, four brass book-ends and four silver candle-holders donated by Macleod Meat Market, Wm. Whitworth, R. O. Jessup, Jenkins' Groceries, and Hudson's Bay Co.

4.—Dr. Kennedy, Macleod, four Waterman's fountain pens in cases donated by R. D. McInay, Vulcan, Bk. Wins.

In the Stavelly cup, first secondary event, the prizes were distributed as follows:

1.—Lebeau, Vulcan, four electric waffle irons donated by Macleod Motors, Macleod.

2.—A. Macleod, Macleod, four carving sets donated by W. G. Andrews, Macleod.

3.—Greenway, Lethbridge, four brush sets, cased, donated by Artis Gas Co., Ltd.

4.—Morgan, Blairmore, four cut glass jelly dishes donated by G. E. Tweed, F. I. Folkins, A. T. West, and White Hall Grocery, Macleod.

The Okotoks cup has not found a resting place as yet. In this event Carney of Claresholm beat Wall of Claresholm on Thursday to get into the finals. He then went up against Donnelly of Nanton, who downed the Claresholm skip in a battle of water polo. Meanwhile, the Claresholm Skating Club of Claresholm had defeated Pinesau of Claresholm in the other end of the semi-finals, and now Donnelly and the O.M.S. will meet at Nanton when the ice gets firm again, and will decide the resting place of the cup for another year. Pinesau and Carney will get the other two prizes. The four prizes for the event are:

1. four silver water jugs, the Distributors, Ltd.; 2. four silver cream and sugar sets, Macleod curling club; 3. four wool coat sweaters, Canadian Natural Gas Co., Ltd.; 4. four cases, two Noel, Macleod.

Brother Against Brother The High River cup, emblematic of the Consolation event, is in a somewhat similar position, but it will be a case of brother against brother for the mug. In this event W. Chalmers of Carmangay, and Ringrose of Claresholm, battled down to one end of the semi-finals, while Harry Winter of Macleod, and Scotty Chalmers of Carmangay, won through to the other. The Chalmers' crews were good in the water, and downed their opponents in the semifinal play, and now the two Carmangay risks will take the cups home, and will battle it out on home ice. The prizes for this event are:

1. four silver pie plates with pyrex lining, The Calgary Herald; 2. four silk dressing robes, Reach & Co., Ltd., Macleod; 3. four silver bonnet dishes, Campbell, Wilson & Horne, Ltd.; 4. four electric cigar lighters and stands, H. R. Carson & Co., Lethbridge.

The grand aggregate had not been decided on by the committee up to late Thursday, but three risks had each won eight games—Stewart of Macleod, O.M.S. of Claresholm, and Greenway of Lethbridge. However, O.M.S. has still one game to play, in the finals of the Okotoks cup, and that may settle the destination of the prize, which comprises four silver cake trays donated by the Queen's Hotel, Macleod.

Carney Chosen President On Thursday afternoon in the waiting room at the rink, the annual meeting of the Pookhills Curling Association was held, with Teddy Mack of Claresholm in the chair, and Harry Winter of Macleod, secretary. The clubs represented were Vulcan, Nanton, Claresholm and Macleod. The election of officers resulted in C. W. Carney of Claresholm being chosen president, and G. W. Ringrose of Claresholm secretary, and the next annual "spiel" will be at Macleod.

Macleod Curling Club was invited to compete for the Pookhills Challenge cup, and in future games for this cup will be 16 ends, and if a tie, the 17th will be played.

A vote of thanks was tendered the Macleod club for the splendid way in which the bonspiel had been handled.

Woolford Land Owner Passes Henry Belden, Native of Holland, Soon Follows Wife to Grave

(From Our Own Correspondent.) CARDSTON, Jan. 8.—Henry Belden of Woolford, for 25 years a resident of the Cardston district, and a native of Holland, died in the Cardston hospital Tuesday evening. He was past 69 years of age, and had lost his wife by death only a few months ago. He was a successful farmer of the Woolford district, and was considered financially independent. He leaves five children, all of whom are married, to mourn his loss. Funeral arrangements are not yet announced.

BELLEVUE GLEE SINGERS PLEASE

Present Delightful Program at Coleman—Soloists Assist

(From Our Own Correspondent.) BELLEVUE, Jan. 6.—On Sunday evening last a very pleasing concert was held in the K. of P. hall at Coleman by the local Glee Society assisted by other well-known artists. Promptly at 8.30 the singing of "O Canada", followed by interesting and appropriate remarks by the chairman, Dr. R. P. Borden, the Glee party sang "Beleaguered", a well-chosen opening number.

Following this Miss Hilda Morris (Mrs. D. A. Curry) gave a most pleasing performance of "The Pipes of Pan" and "The Virgin's Cradle Hymn", the latter being one of the numbers sung at the Alberta Festival, at which Miss Morris was awarded first place. Next on the program was two solos by George Hibbet, tenor, "Ah, Che le Morte" and "A Little Bit of Heaven". Both numbers were very well rendered, the applause signifying that the second number was a favorite with the audience. Then came another glee number entitled "The Little Church". In this the party responded exceptionally well to the baton of the conductor, W. J. Harris, A.E. O.M. The intonation was good, and apart from being a little on the "loud" side, it was a very fine performance.

Here the chairman spoke a few words of sympathy for Mr. A. Haddwell of Blairmore, who was unable to attend through sickness and who was to have sung a duet with Mr. A. Phillips. This number was replaced by Mr. Phillips singing "Salamanda" and "Friend" in a manner that proved him to be a singer of great merit. Miss Eileen Richards was next on the program, singing two selected numbers. Then came the Glee party, giving a fine rendering of "Grant to the Jews", the conductor keeping the "con fuoco" passages well in hand. A sonata for violin and piano came next. This was by Handel and was admirably played by Tom Hill (violin) and Mrs. Clyde McDonald, L.A.B. (piano). Following this a vocal quartette, Messrs. W. Hibbert, J. Cousins, L. Jones and H. Chamberlain, sang two very appropriate and pleasing numbers. For Miss Morris' second appearance the audience were favored with two numbers.

COOMBS CHAIRMAN SCHOOL BOARD AT THE TEMPLE CITY

Financial Matters Worry Trustees at Cardston—May Appeal to Edmonton

(From Our Own Correspondent.) CARDSTON, Jan. 8.—Committees of the Cardston school board were named at the first regular meeting of the new board for the new year.

Long debates followed the acceptance of the committees named, the matter under discussion being the financial condition of the school district. That some relief must be had from Edmonton was the unanimous verdict of the board, first as to power to be granted to the council for the collection of school taxes in the town, and second as to some reduction in the costs of operation of the school, or a corresponding increase in the size and revenue of the school district. It is likely a delegation will be named to go to Edmonton to meet the minister. The meeting was adjourned until Thursday night for further consideration.

Through our failure to transport and ship our own annual grain crop, an enormous wealth of transportation money goes to foreign carriers and foreign seaports, which should stay in Canada to bring added income to our own transportation systems, workers and seaports. At the same time Canadian shippers are being taxed to maintain our present transportation facilities. Canada is therefore paying double transportation costs on every pound of traffic diverted to foreign carriers.

IS THIS GOOD BUSINESS?

CANADA has invested millions of her wealth in the development and equipping of her Atlantic seaports... and for the primary purpose of handling her own export grain and commodity trade with foreign countries. Over $330,000,000 were spent between the years 1903 and 1916 to construct the National Transcontinental Railroad alone, intended by its builders as a direct route for Canadian grain from the great West to Canada's Atlantic and Pacific seaports. In spite of these great preparations and this huge investment, only 4% of Canada's annual grain crops was shipped through Canadian Atlantic Ocean ports in the year 1930...resulting in an enormous economic loss to all of Canada.

It is quite evident that Canada is in need of a sound, economical transportation policy which would include the transporting of Canada's grain over her own transportation systems and the exporting of that grain through her own Atlantic seaports: If this could be brought about, the annual benefit to Canadian producers, Canadian transportation facilities and Atlantic seaports, merchants and manufacturers, would run well into millions of dollars per year, and eliminate the double transportation costs now paid directly and indirectly. With her present highly developed transportation system ready and waiting for this annual grain traffic, it is indeed a sound business move for Canada to utilize to the fullest extent possible these great transportation and port facilities in which she has invested so many millions of dollars. It is a plain business problem which faces Canada and one which can be solved—ship Canadian products through Canadian Atlantic ports.
